LEADERSHIP WRAP-UP

What a fantastic week in Red Deer! We can not thank the staff and students at SARDP for hosting. Between the wonderful conference space, and the Farside providing those delicious eats, we can't decide what we loved more! For those looking to relive the conference, we've added each session to our website, which can be found using this link. While rewatching these videos, we found that consultation is a topic of great interest. This is certainly something to keep in mind in the coming weeks.

Leadership provided us with the opportunity to grow as an organization. After countless virtual meetings and conferences, we were finally able to get back into a room with each other and build on each other's energy. If advocacy is the brain of ASEC, then conferences truly are the heart. Momentum is a curious thing. As we inch closer to Goals we urge you to remember what it felt like during those group discussions. Recall the electricity between you and your peers and capture it once more. Leadership may be over, but we are far from finished.

GOALS PREPERATION

With Leadership in the rearview, we turn our eyes towards Goals Conference! This year Goals will be held in Olds (G-Olds Conference anyone?). Much like Leadership, there's a lot going on during the week so we've put together a list to get you prepared.

Opening Ceremonies start at 9:00 am on July 11th. Breakfast will be served prior to Opening Ceremonies so don't forget to set those alarm clocks!

For a full breakdown of the schedule, click here.

Goals will once again be live, virtual, and recorded. For those who signed up for the virtual-only conference experience, a Discord account will be required.

After creating an account, click here to access the ASEC server.

The purpose of Goals is to set our Advocacy Priorities. Past advocacy goals are written into ASEC policy and can be found in the Policy Manual on page 8. Additionally, old advocacy documents can be found by following this link. please take the time to research and understand these documents prior to arriving in Olds.

Finally, we are once again asking all students attending Goals to read and review ASEC's Code of Conduct.

EVENT PLANNING

With many of your first In-person orientations coming up some questions about planning and executing an event of this scale may come up. As always we're here to help!

ASEC's 8 Steps to planning a great event can help to build a road map for future event planning.

Step 1: Set Goals

Step 2: Budget

Step 3: Create an Events Calendar

Step 4: Re-Evaluate

Step 5: Game Plan

Step 6: Pre-Event

Step 7: During the Event

Step 8: After the Event

The steps above are part of a much larger training manual located on our webpage and can be found by following this link.

LEADER OF THE MONTH

The June Leader of the Month is Magdalena Beukes, Vice President External of TKUSA.

Magdalena is a well-spoken, intelligent, and thoughtful person who, at her first ASEC conference, stood out as a force for advocacy. Her goals for this year include OER's, campus sexual violence policy reform, and consultation on campus

Congratulations to Magdalena on being June's Leader of the Month.

To learn more about Magdalena, check out her interview on ASEC's Podcast, Advancing Education. Now on Spotify & Apple Podcasts.
